German Cruiser is Sunk.
BERLIN, via Copenhagen, via London, Sept. 18.—It is officially announced that on the morning of September 13 the small cruiser Hela was sunk by a torpedo from a hostile submarine.

Almost the whole of the crew were saved.

The German cruiser Hela was a small protected cruiser of 2400 tons. She was 328 feet long and carried a crew of 175 men. Her armament was not heavy, consisting chiefly of light guns.

It is notable that the Hela was sunk by a submarine just as the British cruiser Pathfinder was sent to the bottom by a German submarine, and it is probable that this was a reprisal on the part of the British for the loss of the Pathfinder. It is not announced where the Hela was sunk.

Germans in Africa Taken.
LONDON, Sept. 18.—A dispatch from Cape Town to Reuters' Telegraph company says that the fourth South American mounted rifles, commanded by Colonel Daetson, after two night marches, surprised the German force which had occupied a drift 60 miles from Steinkopf in Namaland. After a sharp skirmish the Germans were compelled to surrender.

Another Cape Town dispatch reports that the action took place at Raman's Drift, an important strategic position.

Sees Plot to Start Holy War.
MILAN, Italy, Sept. 18.—The Scelo confirms the reports of the discovery by the Italian authorities of a plot by German emissaries to stir up the Mohammedans in Tripoli to a holy war. It is said the plan was intended to assure Italy's permanent neutrality by occupying her attention with internal troubles in Tripoli.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

New Officer Appointed.
Night Officer Lou Baker yesterday tendered his resignation to Chief of Police John Kearney and Al Byron was appointed to succeed him.

Auto Hotel Bus Arrives.
The Pendleton Hotel's auto bus for use in hauling patrons to and from the depot has arrived and today is in operation as the first auto bus in the city. It is a beautiful car of the Winston make.

Jane Bernoudy Arrives.
Jane Bernoudy, the pretty little fancy roper who was one of the favorites at the Round-up last year and who is under contract again this year arrived this morning from California. She will be a guest at the home of Mrs. W. C. E. Pruitt.

Girls Jumped Board Bill.
Leaving a board bill of five dollars in Walla Walla unpaid, two young ladies arrived in Pendleton this morning and were met at the depot by Deputy Sheriff James Estes. Sheriff Toner of Walla Walla notified the local officers to meet the girls. Rather than be sent back to Walla Walla, the girls paid the five dollars.

An Army of Deserters.
On an average of 750 members of Uncle Sam's standing army desert each month, according to local officers who receive a circular telling of each deserter. On Tuesday of this week the local police received 102 of these circulars and on Monday 15. This morning another big batch came in.

Officer After Truants.
John Bailey, Jr., who is the county truant officer, is today sending out notices to a number of parents over the county instructing them to send their children to school or suffer the consequences. Several aggravated cases have been reported to him and he intends punishing the offenders if they refuse to comply with the law.

Bound Over to Grand Jury.
Art Peterson and James Wilson were yesterday bound over to the grand jury by Justice of the Peace Parkes on a charge of larceny. They are alleged to have robbed the cook house of Albert Bowlsby on Wednesday night and was arrested at the depot a short time afterward by Officers Russell and Scher. The loot, which consisted of clothing, blankets, razors and other small articles, were all recovered.

"Happy Canyon" Mint Opens.
A money manufacturing plant is in operation in Pendleton today and currency is being turned out in large quantities. The currency is the "1-Buck" notes which will be used exclusively as a medium of exchange in "Happy Canyon" during Round-up week. The cuts of the special lithographing for the notes arrived this morning and the printers were immediately set to work. The notes, printed in green are clever imitations of real currency.

Councilmen Inspect Levy.
Chairman Joe Ell of the levy committee of the council and Councilman D. D. Phelps, John Vaughan and E. J. Murphy, spent yesterday afternoon in thoroughly inspecting the levy along the river. From one end to the other they examined it and found that it needed repairing in several places north of the pump house and north of Mill street. Accordingly Fred Sticker was given the contract this morning of doing the necessary work. The cost of the repairs will not exceed $250. The council is taking these precautions against possible high water during the winter.

Hafts Runaway Brewery Wagon.
In the sight of quaffers of the amber brew, "Bill" Bailey is a hero today. He prevented a terrible catastrophe from befalling and he did it at the risk of his life. The team hitched to the wagon of the Pendleton brewery dashed down Main street this morning and there was imminent danger that the kegs of refreshment aboard would be lost and thus produce a beer famine in the city. Whether inspired by this fear or guided by impulse only, Bailey dashed into the street, seized the bits of the horses and in the course of a half block brought the team to a halt.

Athena Lots Sold.
A deed filed today records the sale of lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 of block 10, Kirk's second addition to Athena.

Visiting in Walla Walla.
Miss Eleanor Vincent is a guest at the home of Mrs. M. J. Wilkenson in Walla Walla.

City Blooms With Decorations.
The work of clothing Pendleton in festal robe for Round-up week is going ahead despite the stormy weather and already the appearance of the city is very gay. Not only are the streets flying flags, streamers and banners but many of the stores and other business houses are already decorated.

Brother Visits Here.
W. C. Funk, a brother of Deputy Sheriff A. C. Funk, is spending a few days here. He is connected with the agricultural department of the United States in the capacity of gatherer of farm statistics. His home is in Pennsylvania but he comes to Pendleton from California. He will make a tour of the farm lands of this county tomorrow.

Storm Hits Walla Walla.
That the heavy wind and rain storm which has prevailed in Pendleton today struck Walla Walla with great force and thoroughly drenched that town was the report received at 11:30 this morning over the telephone. The report states that a veritable gale was blowing there and the rain poured down. It is believed the storm will seriously interfere with the fair in that city. The wild west feature of the Walla Walla fair commenced yesterday afternoon and was witnessed by about 6000 or 7000 people, according to local people who were present. The show itself dragged considerably and was devoid of thrills or strong features, according to these reports.

Subpoenaed to Portland.
The morning mails brought unwelcome news to Officers Alex Manning and John Russell and Supt. E. L. Swartzlander of the Indian agency. It contained subpoenas for them to appear before the federal grand jury in Portland on September 22. The presence of all is much needed in Pendleton during Round-up week and they will answer with much regret. They expect to be able to return Wednesday but Supt. Swartzlander will have to return on Friday night. Cases involving violations of the laws prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians will be up before the grand jury and the local men are needed at witnesses.

Dud Evans Had Hard Luck.
Dudley Evans, former Pendleton boxing promoter who left this city when his creditors became clamorous, had hard luck in staging his north-west amateur boxing contest in Walla Walla last evening, according to reports in the Walla Walla Union of this morning. Originally he had arranged to stage the bouts in the fair pavilion and yesterday afternoon changed his plans and got out circulars announcing the bouts had been changed to Germania Hall on account of the rain. About half an hour before the time for opening, Mayor Gillis announced he would not permit the bouts in the city and Evans was forced to go back to the park and build a temporary platform. It was 9 o'clock before the bouts started and only a small bunch of fans were present.

telephone to police headquarters recently.

The emergency wagon, manned with sergeants, patrolmen and a detective, was rushed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tyler, 121 East Vermont street, the address given over the telephone.

True, a cry of "murder" had been heard. It had been uttered by Mrs. Hyner, who was suffering from nightmare. Her shout awakened Mrs. M. E. Cole of Nashville, Ind., a state fair visitor, and she thought she saw a burglar running from the house. There was considerable excitement thereabouts for some time.

Sergeants Fletcher and Murphy, detective Kurtz and Patrolmen Finney and Feeney finally pacified the neighborhood.

Warning Given Aviators.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Aviators in the northern part of the United States were warned today to be careful not to cross the border into Canada during the war. This explanation was issued by the state department. "The department has been advised by the American Consul-General at Montreal that an aeroplane was recently fired on by Canadian guards while near the Long Sault Canal. This was done," the Consul-General stated, in compliance with a general order of the Dominion government regarding the use of aircraft in Canada."

When Emperor William was born, Lewis Langvich Von Der Haydi died at the state hospital for the insane in Salem, aged 88 years.

According to the asylum authorities, who believe the story, Von Der Haydi left Germany after a quarrel with his father and came to America. The authorities never corresponded with his relatives as he never gave their addresses, if he has any living. He was committed from Union county nine years ago and was a paranoiac, suffering with a desire to kill.

The body is being held at the asylum to await instructions from John H. Klein, a La Grande friend.
